

Kelvin is currently employed with Indiana Grand Racing and Casino as the Business Development Manager. He Graduated from Purdue University in 2004 with a degree in Hospitality & Tourism Management and has been working in the Gaming / Hospitality field since 2000.

In addition to being an board member of the Indianapolis African American Business Council he also serves as Board Member of the Indianapolis Professional Association, Circle City Frontiers Club, Phi beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc., and an administrator for ICIVICS, a program that teaches youth about how their government works .

Mr. Crowe's vision for the Indianapolis African American Business Council is to further strengthen the bonds of the African American Business community, provide political advocacy, and to further unite the minority business community of the Greater Indianapolis Metropolitan Area.